

Ok, so it's about time I post for real.

Alright everyone, just stopping in to say hi. We had to delay, but not cancel our plans to go to Chris and Cassie's wedding, but at the moment we are still in Texas. At least John still gets to stand up at Chris' wedding. Currently, John is finishing the trim on the two new doors he installed, and we are having a security system (that rocks!!) installed as I type. It's actually a pleasant day outside today, as it has been cloudy most of the day. Upper 70s, low 80s, FABUloous!! Hope everyone is well and safe. Love you all.
